

“It opened doors I never knew existed.”

WORKING FOR ALPHA TAU OMEGA

Alpha Tau Omega is looking for leaders who want to expand their career possibilities as they begin their professional lives.

Alpha Tau Omega offers a unique financially competitive post-graduate experience providing opportunities unlike any other entry position. ATO leadership consultants come from a wide range of undergraduate leadership experiences in and outside of their chapters.

We're looking for ATOs who like to help brothers strengthen their chapters and become more effective leaders.

A successful leadership consultant cares about the Fraternity, is self-motivated, reliable, has grit, resiliency and enjoys interacting with ATO brothers.

They are action oriented, can effectively communicate, manage complexity, effectively problem solve and adjust to a variety of situations.

Working consistently with a specific group of chapters, leadership consultants advise, educate and mentor ATOs. They lead meetings, provide consulting advice with individual chapter officers and help chapters figure out how to solve problems, innovate new initiatives and build for the future.

Through the course of their tenure with ATO, leadership consultants develop and strengthen their strategic planning, project management, time management, public speaking, and problem solving skills. Becoming a leadership consultant provides a variety of unique career building experiences that provide a leg up for just about any professional career path.

ATO Provides:

- ◇ Competitive compensation & benefits package including 401(k) plan with immediate matching
- ◇ Staff housing
- ◇ MacBook and iPhone
- ◇ Paid vacation
- ◇ Extensive travel
- ◇ Opportunities to connect with professionals
- ◇ AAA membership

Basic Requirements:

- ◇ Bachelor's degree
- ◇ Community or campus leadership experience
- ◇ Communication skills
- ◇ Ability to self-organize and problem solve
- ◇ Innovative and resilient
- ◇ Initiated member in good standing
- ◇ Able and willing to travel

Here's what former Leadership Consultants say:

"My experience as an LC prepared me for the adaptability and flexibility the corporate world requires. The LC role pushes you to be intuitive, hardworking, a challenger, and resilient. All of these skills are differentiators in today's job market, and I know my time at ATO better prepared me for the next step in my career and influences how I show up at work every day."

-Travis Kesinger, Former Leadership Consultant

"It opened doors that I never knew existed for myself and sparked friendships that led to business endeavors for the next journey in my career."

-Hans Rico, Former Leadership Consultant

"I made an impact on many young men to be better versions of themselves, and the job as an LC helped me know that I matter as a person. I will forever be grateful for my time on staff and I know for a fact, it is the reason that I am where I am today."

-JJ Brizendine, Former Leadership Consultant

"Joining staff allowed me to get some perspective on what direction I wanted to follow in my career. It is one of the few jobs where you can jump in and immediately make an impact on the organization. Working on staff led me to grow as a professional."

-Logan Jarvis, Former Leadership Consultant

Life in Indianapolis:

Indianapolis has quickly become a hub for millennials and recent college graduates. 35 percent of residents living downtown are 25 or younger. Regardless of whether you love professional sports, great restaurants, vibrant social and tech scenes, museums or just want to explore on foot or bike, Indy delivers. The Circle City is the world capital of auto racing, home of the NFL Colts and NBA Pacers and the world class 8.1 mile bike and running Indianapolis Cultural Trail. (Not to mention the City's 18 mile Monan Trail). Indianapolis is an easy drive to other major metropolitan areas and attractions including Chicago, St. Louis, Nashville, Cincinnati and the Great Lakes.

To Apply:

For more information, or to apply, reach out to your Consultant or email info@ato.org.

